

Statement of participation

Amanda George

has completed the free course including any mandatory tests for:

Youth work: Introducing policy

This 6-hour free course explored the role of policy in youth work, its impact on young people and the influence of practitioners.

Issue date: 25 April 2018

www.open.edu/openlearn

This statement does not imply the award of credit points nor the conferment of a University Qualification.
This statement confirms that this free course and all mandatory tests were passed by the learner.
Please go to the course on OpenLearn for full details:
<http://www.open.edu/openlearn/education/educational-technology-and-practice/educational-practice/youth-work-introducing-policy/content-section-0>

COURSE CODE: E318_1

Youth work: Introducing policy

<http://www.open.edu/openlearn/education/educational-technology-and-practice/educational-practice/youth-work-introducing-policy/content-section-0>

Course summary

In this free course, Youth work: Introducing policy, we will look at the meaning of policy, how it works as a mechanism for persuading people to behave in particular ways, its role in shaping our understandings of young people, and the role practitioners can play in mediating and influencing policy.

Learning outcomes

By completing this course, the learner should be able to:

- analyse some of the assumptions that underpin policy
- evaluate some of the ways in which practitioners can influence it.

Completed study

The learner has completed the following:

Section 1

What is policy?

Section 2

How does policy work?

Section 3

Policy as discourse

Section 4

Policy and young people

Section 5

Policy and the practitioner

Section 6

Conclusion