

Statement of participation

Amanda George

has completed the free course including any mandatory tests for:

Living with the Internet: Online shopping

This 5-hour free course showed how to get the best out of online shopping sites, how to assess the quality of a site and how to ensure user security.

Issue date: 1 April 2018

www.open.edu/openlearn

This statement does not imply the award of credit points nor the conferment of a University Qualification.
This statement confirms that this free course and all mandatory tests were passed by the learner.
Please go to the course on OpenLearn for full details:
<http://www.open.edu/openlearn/science-maths-technology/computing-and-ict/information-and-communication-technologies/living-the-internet-online-shopping/content-section-0>

COURSE CODE: T180_3

Living with the Internet: Online shopping

<http://www.open.edu/openlearn/science-maths-technology/computing-and-ict/information-and-communication-technologies/living-the-internet-online-shopping/content-section-0>

Course summary

Online shopping think of it as a shopping centre in cyberspace, with online auctions as the car-boot sale in the car park. This free course, Living with the Internet: Online shopping, will help you understand how to use online shopping sites, how to ensure that you are using the best sites and the best ways to protect your security.

Learning outcomes

By completing this course, the learner should be able to:

- describe and use safely eBay and Amazon
- describe some of the technologies that underpin online shopping and auctions
- approach new tasks involving online shopping and auctions with more confidence.

Completed study

The learner has completed the following:

Section 1

Introducing eBay

Section 2

How to do it – eBay

Section 3

What's going on with eBay

Section 4

The eBay phenomenon – what it means

Section 5

Online shopping – a beginner's guide

Section 6

How to do it – online shopping

Section 7

What's going on with online shopping

Section 8

Online shopping – what it means

Section 9

Conclusion